

THE POLITICAL POT.
CHAIRMAN JONES CONFERES WITH OTHER DEMOCRATIC LEADERS.
SOUTHERN POPULISTS AND NEGROES.

What the Arkansas Leader of Democracy Really Said on This Point—
Pretended Republican Satisfaction with the North Carolina Situation.

WASHINGTON, August 3.—Senator Jones, chairman of the National Democratic Committee, was closeted with the members of the Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee the most of the day, having been his first opportunity of being acquainted with the work that has been done by that committee and the plans it has mapped out for the future. Among his callers at headquarters were Senator Gorman, of Maryland, and ex-Clerk of the House of Representatives, Mr. Jones. Both gentlemen were full of confidence, Mr. Gorman maintaining that Maryland would be returned to its old love when the vote was counted, and Mr. Jones predicting some very marked gains in the Democratic representation in Congress from the Keystone State.

Senator Jones was quoted this morning in a newspaper as saying that the Populists in the South would "go with the Democrats where they belong."

"It is not fair to me to make such a statement," said the Senator. "I have not said that the Populists are divided into two camps. One of these is actuated by purely selfish motives, and has gone to that party because they believed that the Democratic party would give them the relief they demanded. When they see that the Democratic party stands ready to give them free coinage, they will return to it, and free their ticket on its principles. The other faction, which is made up of honest men, moved by honest motives, and who would naturally affiliate with the Republicans. I do not believe that the Populists in the South will go with the Democrats. I believe that they will go with the Democrats where they belong."

It is not fair to me to make such a statement," said the Senator. "I have not said that the Populists are divided into two camps. One of these is actuated by purely selfish motives, and has gone to that party because they believed that the Democratic party would give them the relief they demanded. When they see that the Democratic party stands ready to give them free coinage, they will return to it, and free their ticket on its principles. The other faction, which is made up of honest men, moved by honest motives, and who would naturally affiliate with the Republicans. I do not believe that the Populists in the South will go with the Democrats. I believe that they will go with the Democrats where they belong."

Mr. Jones reiterated the statement that he would not decide upon the location of national headquarters nor name the members of the Executive Committee until he had received the views of the various State organizations. He said that he had received the views of the various State organizations, and that he would not decide upon the location of national headquarters nor name the members of the Executive Committee until he had received the views of the various State organizations.

Mr. Jones reiterated the statement that he would not decide upon the location of national headquarters nor name the members of the Executive Committee until he had received the views of the various State organizations. He said that he had received the views of the various State organizations, and that he would not decide upon the location of national headquarters nor name the members of the Executive Committee until he had received the views of the various State organizations.

Mr. Jones reiterated the statement that he would not decide upon the location of national headquarters nor name the members of the Executive Committee until he had received the views of the various State organizations. He said that he had received the views of the various State organizations, and that he would not decide upon the location of national headquarters nor name the members of the Executive Committee until he had received the views of the various State organizations.

Mr. Jones reiterated the statement that he would not decide upon the location of national headquarters nor name the members of the Executive Committee until he had received the views of the various State organizations. He said that he had received the views of the various State organizations, and that he would not decide upon the location of national headquarters nor name the members of the Executive Committee until he had received the views of the various State organizations.

Mr. Jones reiterated the statement that he would not decide upon the location of national headquarters nor name the members of the Executive Committee until he had received the views of the various State organizations. He said that he had received the views of the various State organizations, and that he would not decide upon the location of national headquarters nor name the members of the Executive Committee until he had received the views of the various State organizations.

Mr. Jones reiterated the statement that he would not decide upon the location of national headquarters nor name the members of the Executive Committee until he had received the views of the various State organizations. He said that he had received the views of the various State organizations, and that he would not decide upon the location of national headquarters nor name the members of the Executive Committee until he had received the views of the various State organizations.

Mr. Jones reiterated the statement that he would not decide upon the location of national headquarters nor name the members of the Executive Committee until he had received the views of the various State organizations. He said that he had received the views of the various State organizations, and that he would not decide upon the location of national headquarters nor name the members of the Executive Committee until he had received the views of the various State organizations.

Mr. Jones reiterated the statement that he would not decide upon the location of national headquarters nor name the members of the Executive Committee until he had received the views of the various State organizations. He said that he had received the views of the various State organizations, and that he would not decide upon the location of national headquarters nor name the members of the Executive Committee until he had received the views of the various State organizations.

Mr. Jones reiterated the statement that he would not decide upon the location of national headquarters nor name the members of the Executive Committee until he had received the views of the various State organizations. He said that he had received the views of the various State organizations, and that he would not decide upon the location of national headquarters nor name the members of the Executive Committee until he had received the views of the various State organizations.

Mr. Jones reiterated the statement that he would not decide upon the location of national headquarters nor name the members of the Executive Committee until he had received the views of the various State organizations. He said that he had received the views of the various State organizations, and that he would not decide upon the location of national headquarters nor name the members of the Executive Committee until he had received the views of the various State organizations.

Mr. Jones reiterated the statement that he would not decide upon the location of national headquarters nor name the members of the Executive Committee until he had received the views of the various State organizations. He said that he had received the views of the various State organizations, and that he would not decide upon the location of national headquarters nor name the members of the Executive Committee until he had received the views of the various State organizations.

Mr. Jones reiterated the statement that he would not decide upon the location of national headquarters nor name the members of the Executive Committee until he had received the views of the various State organizations. He said that he had received the views of the various State organizations, and that he would not decide upon the location of national headquarters nor name the members of the Executive Committee until he had received the views of the various State organizations.

ALABAMA ELECTION.
EVERYTHING APPARENTLY PASS-
ED OFF QUIETLY.
DEMOCRATS MAKE HEAVY GAINS.

A Number of Members of Legislature
Also Won from the Populists—Indications All Favorable to Full
Democratic Success.

MONTGOMERY, ALA., August 3.—Reports from the State are to the effect that everything passed off quietly at to-day's election. In many localities a light vote was polled. All the black-belt counties have given round Democratic majorities. The Democrats have made heavy gains in a number of white counties, which have heretofore given Populist majorities, and also gained a number of representatives in the Legislature.

It is impossible to give anything like an estimate now. The ticket is a long one, containing not only State officers, but legislative and county officers. The indications now point to a Democratic victory in the State, and to both branches of the Legislature being Democratic.

MOBILE, ALA., August 3.—The election in this city and county (Mobile), so far as heard from, passed off very quietly. The weather was conducive to the polling of a large vote, the day being warm and clear, with a fine Gulf breeze to temper the heat. Present indications are, however, that the vote, in the city at least, has been light. The total registration in April last was something over 7,000. There was a good majority for Johnston and the State Democratic ticket.

The Republicans did not take much interest in the election, and what votes the Populist ticket got were scattered. The vote to-night may be possible to give figures.

SECRETARY HERBERT'S RETURN.
MONTGOMERY, ALA., August 3.—Secretary of the Navy, Herbert, leaves for Washington in the morning, after having spent to-day for the Democratic State ticket.

The Democratic candidate for Governor is a free-silver man, but his opponent is not only a free-silver man, but a Populist. The vote to-night may be possible to give figures.

PLEASURE ON THE ROOF-GARDEN.
Cool Breezes and a Varied Programme This Week.

The determination of Messrs. Anstie & Webster to place upon the Jefferson roof-garden this week a programme that would please the public has met with fulfillment. If triple scores and increasing applause are evidences of the audience being satisfied, and they certainly are acknowledged symptoms of it.

The garden presented a fine appearance last evening. The audience was a large one, and nearly all of the ladies were in evening dress. The programme is the most varied one yet presented. Miss Vera Hart, whose sympathetic and graceful voice made her a favorite last week, remains this week. Her songs were familiar to the audience, but she invigorates them with new life by her sweet and artistic rendition.

The programme is the most varied one yet presented. Miss Vera Hart, whose sympathetic and graceful voice made her a favorite last week, remains this week. Her songs were familiar to the audience, but she invigorates them with new life by her sweet and artistic rendition.

The programme is the most varied one yet presented. Miss Vera Hart, whose sympathetic and graceful voice made her a favorite last week, remains this week. Her songs were familiar to the audience, but she invigorates them with new life by her sweet and artistic rendition.

The programme is the most varied one yet presented. Miss Vera Hart, whose sympathetic and graceful voice made her a favorite last week, remains this week. Her songs were familiar to the audience, but she invigorates them with new life by her sweet and artistic rendition.

The programme is the most varied one yet presented. Miss Vera Hart, whose sympathetic and graceful voice made her a favorite last week, remains this week. Her songs were familiar to the audience, but she invigorates them with new life by her sweet and artistic rendition.

The programme is the most varied one yet presented. Miss Vera Hart, whose sympathetic and graceful voice made her a favorite last week, remains this week. Her songs were familiar to the audience, but she invigorates them with new life by her sweet and artistic rendition.

The programme is the most varied one yet presented. Miss Vera Hart, whose sympathetic and graceful voice made her a favorite last week, remains this week. Her songs were familiar to the audience, but she invigorates them with new life by her sweet and artistic rendition.

The programme is the most varied one yet presented. Miss Vera Hart, whose sympathetic and graceful voice made her a favorite last week, remains this week. Her songs were familiar to the audience, but she invigorates them with new life by her sweet and artistic rendition.

ALABAMA ELECTION.
EVERYTHING APPARENTLY PASS-
ED OFF QUIETLY.
DEMOCRATS MAKE HEAVY GAINS.

A Number of Members of Legislature
Also Won from the Populists—Indications All Favorable to Full
Democratic Success.

MONTGOMERY, ALA., August 3.—Reports from the State are to the effect that everything passed off quietly at to-day's election. In many localities a light vote was polled. All the black-belt counties have given round Democratic majorities. The Democrats have made heavy gains in a number of white counties, which have heretofore given Populist majorities, and also gained a number of representatives in the Legislature.

It is impossible to give anything like an estimate now. The ticket is a long one, containing not only State officers, but legislative and county officers. The indications now point to a Democratic victory in the State, and to both branches of the Legislature being Democratic.

MOBILE, ALA., August 3.—The election in this city and county (Mobile), so far as heard from, passed off very quietly. The weather was conducive to the polling of a large vote, the day being warm and clear, with a fine Gulf breeze to temper the heat. Present indications are, however, that the vote, in the city at least, has been light. The total registration in April last was something over 7,000. There was a good majority for Johnston and the State Democratic ticket.

The Republicans did not take much interest in the election, and what votes the Populist ticket got were scattered. The vote to-night may be possible to give figures.

SECRETARY HERBERT'S RETURN.
MONTGOMERY, ALA., August 3.—Secretary of the Navy, Herbert, leaves for Washington in the morning, after having spent to-day for the Democratic State ticket.

The Democratic candidate for Governor is a free-silver man, but his opponent is not only a free-silver man, but a Populist. The vote to-night may be possible to give figures.

PLEASURE ON THE ROOF-GARDEN.
Cool Breezes and a Varied Programme This Week.

The determination of Messrs. Anstie & Webster to place upon the Jefferson roof-garden this week a programme that would please the public has met with fulfillment. If triple scores and increasing applause are evidences of the audience being satisfied, and they certainly are acknowledged symptoms of it.

The garden presented a fine appearance last evening. The audience was a large one, and nearly all of the ladies were in evening dress. The programme is the most varied one yet presented. Miss Vera Hart, whose sympathetic and graceful voice made her a favorite last week, remains this week. Her songs were familiar to the audience, but she invigorates them with new life by her sweet and artistic rendition.

The programme is the most varied one yet presented. Miss Vera Hart, whose sympathetic and graceful voice made her a favorite last week, remains this week. Her songs were familiar to the audience, but she invigorates them with new life by her sweet and artistic rendition.

The programme is the most varied one yet presented. Miss Vera Hart, whose sympathetic and graceful voice made her a favorite last week, remains this week. Her songs were familiar to the audience, but she invigorates them with new life by her sweet and artistic rendition.

The programme is the most varied one yet presented. Miss Vera Hart, whose sympathetic and graceful voice made her a favorite last week, remains this week. Her songs were familiar to the audience, but she invigorates them with new life by her sweet and artistic rendition.

The programme is the most varied one yet presented. Miss Vera Hart, whose sympathetic and graceful voice made her a favorite last week, remains this week. Her songs were familiar to the audience, but she invigorates them with new life by her sweet and artistic rendition.

The programme is the most varied one yet presented. Miss Vera Hart, whose sympathetic and graceful voice made her a favorite last week, remains this week. Her songs were familiar to the audience, but she invigorates them with new life by her sweet and artistic rendition.

The programme is the most varied one yet presented. Miss Vera Hart, whose sympathetic and graceful voice made her a favorite last week, remains this week. Her songs were familiar to the audience, but she invigorates them with new life by her sweet and artistic rendition.

The programme is the most varied one yet presented. Miss Vera Hart, whose sympathetic and graceful voice made her a favorite last week, remains this week. Her songs were familiar to the audience, but she invigorates them with new life by her sweet and artistic rendition.

ALABAMA ELECTION.
EVERYTHING APPARENTLY PASS-
ED OFF QUIETLY.
DEMOCRATS MAKE HEAVY GAINS.

A Number of Members of Legislature
Also Won from the Populists—Indications All Favorable to Full
Democratic Success.

MONTGOMERY, ALA., August 3.—Reports from the State are to the effect that everything passed off quietly at to-day's election. In many localities a light vote was polled. All the black-belt counties have given round Democratic majorities. The Democrats have made heavy gains in a number of white counties, which have heretofore given Populist majorities, and also gained a number of representatives in the Legislature.

It is impossible to give anything like an estimate now. The ticket is a long one, containing not only State officers, but legislative and county officers. The indications now point to a Democratic victory in the State, and to both branches of the Legislature being Democratic.

MOBILE, ALA., August 3.—The election in this city and county (Mobile), so far as heard from, passed off very quietly. The weather was conducive to the polling of a large vote, the day being warm and clear, with a fine Gulf breeze to temper the heat. Present indications are, however, that the vote, in the city at least, has been light. The total registration in April last was something over 7,000. There was a good majority for Johnston and the State Democratic ticket.

The Republicans did not take much interest in the election, and what votes the Populist ticket got were scattered. The vote to-night may be possible to give figures.

SECRETARY HERBERT'S RETURN.
MONTGOMERY, ALA., August 3.—Secretary of the Navy, Herbert, leaves for Washington in the morning, after having spent to-day for the Democratic State ticket.

The Democratic candidate for Governor is a free-silver man, but his opponent is not only a free-silver man, but a Populist. The vote to-night may be possible to give figures.

PLEASURE ON THE ROOF-GARDEN.
Cool Breezes and a Varied Programme This Week.

The determination of Messrs. Anstie & Webster to place upon the Jefferson roof-garden this week a programme that would please the public has met with fulfillment. If triple scores and increasing applause are evidences of the audience being satisfied, and they certainly are acknowledged symptoms of it.

The garden presented a fine appearance last evening. The audience was a large one, and nearly all of the ladies were in evening dress. The programme is the most varied one yet presented. Miss Vera Hart, whose sympathetic and graceful voice made her a favorite last week, remains this week. Her songs were familiar to the audience, but she invigorates them with new life by her sweet and artistic rendition.

The programme is the most varied one yet presented. Miss Vera Hart, whose sympathetic and graceful voice made her a favorite last week, remains this week. Her songs were familiar to the audience, but she invigorates them with new life by her sweet and artistic rendition.

The programme is the most varied one yet presented. Miss Vera Hart, whose sympathetic and graceful voice made her a favorite last week, remains this week. Her songs were familiar to the audience, but she invigorates them with new life by her sweet and artistic rendition.

The programme is the most varied one yet presented. Miss Vera Hart, whose sympathetic and graceful voice made her a favorite last week, remains this week. Her songs were familiar to the audience, but she invigorates them with new life by her sweet and artistic rendition.

The programme is the most varied one yet presented. Miss Vera Hart, whose sympathetic and graceful voice made her a favorite last week, remains this week. Her songs were familiar to the audience, but she invigorates them with new life by her sweet and artistic rendition.

The programme is the most varied one yet presented. Miss Vera Hart, whose sympathetic and graceful voice made her a favorite last week, remains this week. Her songs were familiar to the audience, but she invigorates them with new life by her sweet and artistic rendition.

The programme is the most varied one yet presented. Miss Vera Hart, whose sympathetic and graceful voice made her a favorite last week, remains this week. Her songs were familiar to the audience, but she invigorates them with new life by her sweet and artistic rendition.

The programme is the most varied one yet presented. Miss Vera Hart, whose sympathetic and graceful voice made her a favorite last week, remains this week. Her songs were familiar to the audience, but she invigorates them with new life by her sweet and artistic rendition.

VANDERBILT WEDS.
CORNELIUS, JR., DISREGARDS
FAMILY OPPOSITION.
DEFIES DISINHERITANCE THREAT.

Not a Member of His Family Even
Invited to the Wedding—Young
Man Looks Worried—Bride All
Smiles.

NEW YORK, August 3.—Despite the determined opposition of his family, and in defiance of the threat of disinheritance, Mr. Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr., was married to-day to Miss Grace Wilson.

Mr. Vanderbilt, Sr., warned the young man that if he contracted the marriage he would have to depend upon his own resources for a livelihood, and need expect no share of the Vanderbilt fortune. Thus, the son, by disobeying his father's wishes, threw away his prospect of inheriting a large lump of the $100,000 which Mr. Vanderbilt, Sr., is estimated to be worth.

Not a member of the Vanderbilt family was even invited to the wedding, which was notable for its simplicity. Perhaps never in the history of the Vanderbilt or Wilson families has such a quiet wedding been celebrated.

It was 11:45 o'clock when Mr. Vanderbilt, Jr., reached the Wilson house, at No. 211 Fifth avenue. He was dressed in a black frock coat, with light, striped trousers. He found awaiting him his bride-elect, Mr. and Mrs. Orme Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Richard T. Wilson, Mr. T. Wilson, Jr., Mr. Robert Gould, Jr., and Mr. Frank Polk, of Boston, one of his classmates. This comprised the wedding party.

Shortly before noon the Rev. William H. Potter, assistant to Dr. Brown, rector of St. Thomas's church, entered the house. The rear drawing-room had been suitably decorated with a few choice cut-flowers early in the morning. Mr. Potter, wearing a simple black gown, for the ceremony, when the Rev. Mr. Potter took up a position at the eastern end of the room. A moment later young Vanderbilt entered the room, accompanied by his bride-elect, Mr. and Mrs. Orme Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Richard T. Wilson, Mr. T. Wilson, Jr., Mr. Robert Gould, Jr., and Mr. Frank Polk, of Boston, one of his classmates. This comprised the wedding party.

Miss Wilson, attended solely by her father, married down the main hall and through the centre archway, leading to the rear drawing-room. She looked a picture of beauty, in her pure white wedding gown, a creation of French art. She wore a veil of extreme old English lace, reaching to the bottom of her gown. It was fastened with a magnificent wreath of diamonds, surmounted by a bunch of orange-blossoms.

As soon as Miss Wilson entered the room, the groom stepped forward, and taking her by the hand, they both stepped before the officiating minister. In five minutes it was all over, and Miss Wilson was the wife of the son of one of America's greatest millionaires.

The guests were all invited to the wedding, and many of the conventionalities attending such weddings were omitted. After the ceremony the small gathering offered their congratulations to the young couple. No wedding feast was prepared. Mr. and Mrs. Vanderbilt retired to apartments upstairs, and donned their traveling apparel.

At 12:35 P. M. the bride and groom, followed by a shower of rice, left the house and entered a coupe waiting at the door. The groom looked pale and worried, the bride's face was radiant with smiles, and as the carriage drew away from the door, Mrs. Vanderbilt threw kisses to the group of well-wishers who had assembled to see the couple off.

Where the bride and groom will spend their honeymoon was not given out, but they were driven to the Grand Central Station, and it is understood will go to Saratoga. It is said they have no plans for the future. They may go abroad for a year, but this has not been decided, nor has the place they will make their permanent home.

CONGRATULATIONS.
Hardly had the ceremony been finished before telegrams of congratulation began arriving. They were principally from friends of the Wilson family, but some of Mr. Vanderbilt's chums remembered him. From across the water came a telegram from the Duke and Duchess of Marlborough, the Earl and Countess of Pembroke, and others of the nobility.

The groom's heart, composed of some thirty extremely brilliant diamonds, with a beautiful sapphire in the centre.

NOTIFICATION OF BRYAN.
Senator White Cannot Attend, and
Senator Daniel Is Absent.

LOS ANGELES, CAL., August 3.—Senator White, chairman of the notification committee, appointed by the Democratic National Convention, will be unable to attend the notification of Messrs. Bryan and Sewall, in New York, August 15th. The Senator is very busy with his law practice, which accumulated during his absence in Chicago, and he cannot leave Los Angeles for some time to come. He has, however, completed the official notification and forwarded it East, where it will be signed by all of the members of the committee.

The presentation of the notice would naturally, in the absence of Senator White, fall on Senator Daniel, the temporary chairman, but the Virginian is absent in Europe, so Governor Stone, of Missouri, will probably head the committee.

BLAND TO JOIN BRYAN.
He Will Accompany the Latter to
New York.

LEBANON, MO., August 3.—Richard P. Bland leaves to-day for Lincoln, Neb. Bland will accompany Mr. Bland. They will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bryan during their short stay in Lincoln. The party will leave Mr. Bryan's home Friday evening on the journey for New York, where Messrs. Bryan and Sewall will be notified of their nomination as Presidential electors.

VANDERBILT WEDS.
CORNELIUS, JR., DISREGARDS
FAMILY OPPOSITION.
DEFIES DISINHERITANCE THREAT.

Not a Member of His Family Even
Invited to the Wedding—Young
Man Looks Worried—Bride All
Smiles.

NEW YORK, August 3.—Despite the determined opposition of his family, and in defiance of the threat of disinheritance, Mr. Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr., was married to-day to Miss Grace Wilson.

Mr. Vanderbilt, Sr., warned the young man that if he contracted the marriage he would have to depend upon his own resources for a livelihood, and need expect no share of the Vanderbilt fortune. Thus, the son, by disobeying his father's wishes, threw away his prospect of inheriting a large lump of the $100,000 which Mr. Vanderbilt, Sr., is estimated to be worth.

Not a member of the Vanderbilt family was even invited to the wedding, which was notable for its simplicity. Perhaps never in the history of the Vanderbilt or Wilson families has such a quiet wedding been celebrated.

It was 11:45 o'clock when Mr. Vanderbilt, Jr., reached the Wilson house, at No. 211 Fifth avenue. He was dressed in a black frock coat, with light, striped trousers. He found awaiting him his bride-elect, Mr. and Mrs. Orme Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Richard T. Wilson, Mr. T. Wilson, Jr., Mr. Robert Gould, Jr., and Mr. Frank Polk, of Boston, one of his classmates. This comprised the wedding party.

Shortly before noon the Rev. William H. Potter, assistant to Dr. Brown, rector of St. Thomas's church, entered the house. The rear drawing-room had been suitably decorated with a few choice cut-flowers early in the morning. Mr. Potter, wearing a simple black gown, for the ceremony, when the Rev. Mr. Potter took up a position at the eastern end of the room. A moment later young Vanderbilt entered the room, accompanied by his bride-elect, Mr. and Mrs. Orme Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Richard T. Wilson, Mr. T. Wilson, Jr., Mr. Robert Gould, Jr., and Mr. Frank Polk, of Boston, one of his classmates. This comprised the wedding party.

Miss Wilson, attended solely by her father, married down the main hall and through the centre archway, leading to the rear drawing-room. She looked a picture of beauty, in her pure white wedding gown, a creation of French art. She wore a veil of extreme old English lace, reaching to the bottom of her gown. It was fastened with a magnificent wreath of diamonds, surmounted by a bunch of orange-blossoms.

As soon as Miss Wilson entered the room, the groom stepped forward, and taking her by the hand, they both stepped before the officiating minister. In five minutes it was all over, and Miss Wilson was the wife of the son of one of America's greatest millionaires.

The guests were all invited to the wedding, and many of the conventionalities attending such weddings were omitted. After the ceremony the small gathering offered their congratulations to the young couple. No wedding feast was prepared. Mr. and Mrs. Vanderbilt retired to apartments upstairs, and donned their traveling apparel.

At 12:35 P. M. the bride and groom, followed by a shower of rice, left the house and entered a coupe waiting at the door. The groom looked pale and worried, the bride's face was radiant with smiles, and as the carriage drew away from the door, Mrs. Vanderbilt threw kisses to the group of well-wishers who had assembled to see the couple off.

Where the bride and groom will spend their honeymoon was not given out, but they were driven to the Grand Central Station, and it is understood will go to Saratoga. It is said they have no plans for the future. They may go abroad for a year, but this has not been decided, nor has the place they will make their permanent home.

CONGRATULATIONS.
Hardly had the ceremony been finished before telegrams of congratulation began arriving. They were principally from friends of the Wilson family, but some of Mr. Vanderbilt's chums remembered him. From across the water came a telegram from the Duke and Duchess of Marlborough, the Earl and Countess of Pembroke, and others of the nobility.

The groom's heart, composed of some thirty extremely brilliant diamonds, with a beautiful sapphire in the centre.

NOTIFICATION OF BRYAN.
Senator White Cannot Attend, and
Senator Daniel Is Absent.

LOS ANGELES, CAL., August 3.—Senator White, chairman of the notification committee, appointed by the Democratic National Convention, will be unable to attend the notification of Messrs. Bryan and Sewall, in New York, August 15th. The Senator is very busy with his law practice, which accumulated during his absence in Chicago, and he cannot leave Los Angeles for some time to come. He has, however, completed the official notification and forwarded it East, where it will be signed by all of the members of the committee.

The presentation of the notice would naturally, in the absence of Senator White, fall on Senator Daniel, the temporary chairman, but the Virginian is absent in Europe, so Governor Stone, of Missouri, will probably head the committee.

BLAND TO JOIN BRYAN.
He Will Accompany the Latter to
New York.

LEBANON, MO., August 3.—Richard P. Bland leaves to-day for Lincoln, Neb. Bland will accompany Mr. Bland. They will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bryan during their short stay in Lincoln. The party will leave Mr. Bryan's home Friday evening on the journey for New York, where Messrs. Bryan and Sewall will be notified of their nomination as Presidential electors.

COME TO SEE FATHER
UNUSUAL EXPERIENCE OF TWO LAWRENCEVILLE CHILDREN.

He Was Asked to Enter Them at the Soldiers' Home or Secure Employment for Them—Their Parent in the Almshouse.

Major Norman V. Randolph had rather a peculiar assignment last evening, when he received at his home, No. 312 west Grace street, a couple of children—a boy and girl—who were sent to him from Lawrenceville, Va.

They bore a letter from Judge F. E. Buford, of that town, who stated that their father was an inmate of the Soldiers' Home, and that the "good people of Lawrenceville" had contributed sufficient money to send them here, in order that they might find their paternal parent.

When the young couple left the train they met a policeman, who took them to the Soldiers' Home, but their father was not registered there, and the officer then conducted them to Major Randolph's home, which they reached about 9 o'clock.

PUT THEM TO BED.
Major Randolph had no idea that he was to have guests thrust upon him, but he took the young people in, and after questioning them closely gave them supper and put them to bed in his home.

They gave their names as Milla, but said their father's name was Micajah Lancaster. They had, in addition to Judge Buford's communication, a letter from their father, who stated that he was sick, and was at the Soldiers' Home in Richmond. Buford had evidently not seen, but when it was shown to Major Randolph by the children, he at once phoned to the almshouse, where he located their father, who was registered under the name of Micajah Lancaster.

Major Randolph, when seen by a Dispatch man last night, said he would take the children to their father this morning, but could not last night do otherwise than give them shelter.

HIS CAME TO THE REUNION.
The girl is rather a good-looking blonde about 15 years of age, and the lad is a dark brunette, about 6 years her junior. They came, so they say, from about three miles west of Richmond, in Rockingham county, and the last they saw of their father was when he departed to attend the reunion.

LOUIGNE OF AMERICAN WHEELMEN AT LOUISVILLE AUGUST 10TH TO 15TH.
A rate of one fare for the round-trip has been authorized, via Chesapeake and Ohio route, for the meeting of the league at Louisville.

The league will start August 8th and 9th, limited to August 18th.

A Large Crowd, Regardless of the Weather.
Notwithstanding the dark clouds that hung over the city and the cooling rain-drops that fell Sunday morning, the fair at the Soldiers' Home, the "Tribune" steamed out on time with one combined car and nine coaches, all crowded with Richmonders, bound for the Soldiers' Home, Norfolk and Western railroad. The passengers consisted mostly of ladies and children, all determined not to remain in the heated city even if it did rain. The train was made, Richmond to Norfolk, 14 miles, in two hours and thirty minutes. At 12 o'clock a large portion of the people were at Virginia Beach, 122 miles from their homes, while the rest either remained in Norfolk waiting their friends, or went to Ocean View to spend the day at this resort. The weather at all of these places was very pleasant and the bathing was all that could be desired.

These excursions are becoming more and more popular each trip, as those who go once always go again and take a friend, and are not only "fanned by ocean breezes," but enjoy many other pleasures equally as well. The next trip will start Sunday, August 9th.

Niagara Falls Excursions via R. P.
& P. and Pennsylvania R. R.
Niagara Falls Tours will leave Washington, D. C., in special trains via the Pennsylvania railroad at 7:30 A. M., July 28th, and at 8:00 A. M., September 5th and 17th. The Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac railroad will sell round-trip tickets from Richmond for these tours at 75 cents.

For full information apply to Richmond Transfer Company, 96 east Main street; Jefferson Hotel, City, or C. A. TAYLOR, Traffic Manager.

Cheap Rates
VIA THE STEAMER POCAHONTAS.
On Fridays during the months of July and August, round-trip tickets (limit five days) will be sold on the steamer Pocahontas from Richmond to Norfolk, Old Point, or Newport News, one fare for the round-trip—$1.50.

The Weather.
WASHINGTON, August 3.—Forecast for Virginia: Fair weather; warmer in eastern portions; southerly winds.

North Carolina: Generally fair weather, but probably local rains on the coast; variable winds.

The barometer has risen slowly in the Southern, Middle, and New England States, and fallen slowly in the Upper Lake regions. The pressure continues greatest on the Gulf coast.

It is generally warmer